Newspaper Laws.

1. A postmaster is required to give notice by letter, before a newspaper is carried, of the terms on which it is to be carried, and to state the name of the publisher, and a neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publisher for the cost of the paper.
2. Any person who carries a newspaper for another, without the authority of the publisher, is liable to the publisher for the cost of the paper.
3. If any person orders his paper to be discontinued, he must pay for all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until he is notified to the contrary.
4. If the subscriber orders his paper to be stopped at a certain time, and the publisher continues to send it, the subscriber is liable to the publisher for the cost of the paper.
5. The courts have decided that refusing to take a newspaper and publisher from the postoffice, is removing and leaving them uncollected for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

Particular Notice.

We distinctly announce to the public that we intend to conduct our business in the cash system, and under no circumstances will we place a paper on our shelves until we have received the money in advance. Job work of every description must be paid for upon delivery. Yearly advertisers will be required to settle with us in advance. Advertisements of all except established business houses in advance.

Floating Crumbs.

500 BUCKETS Seed Oats at Geo. D. Warren's.

100,000 choice brand cigars, at S. B. Matheny & Co.

CHEAPEST and best Groceries sold in town by S. B. Matheny & Co.

Go to N. R. Tevis for a perfect fit in clothing of every description.

Just received and for sale, 100 lbs. Whisky, by S. B. Matheny & Co.

Call at the "Star Saloon" and be convinced that "George" keeps the best liquors in town.

E. B. HAYDEN has received a large lot of Wall Paper this week, and the new designs are exquisite.

In stock and for sale, 75 caddies Virginia Tobacco, at Manufacturers' prices, by S. B. Matheny & Co.

THE "Star Saloon," kept by Geo. S. Carpenter, at the Carpenter House, is the most fashionable resort in the city.

Go to Geo. D. Warren's for Garden Seeds, Onion Sets and Seed Potatoes—Always variety just received.

THE most extensive Stock of Edgings and Insertions, can be found at E. B. Hayden's. Go and examine the new patterns.

A SPLENDID line of Hats just received, and for sale by N. R. Tevis. They were made expressly for this market, and the guarantee satisfaction in every case.

For best and cheapest drugs, books, stationery, cigars, tobacco, pipes, cutlery, picture frames, sewing machines, and all medicinal liquors, go to Bolton & Stagg's.

THE Coal mines of W. R. Dillon having temporarily suspended operations, I will in the meantime supply my customers from the mines known as Woodson, Mine, Mine, a clean, dry, lively lot of coal. I will sell on credit or cash, prices low as the lowest. Geo. D. Warren.

N. R. Tevis, who keeps the Mammoth Clothing and Gents Furnishing Goods house, in Stanford, has received the first shipment of his Spring Goods, and informs us that he will continue to receive these every week during the Spring months. If you want to see a splendid stock of clothing, boots, shoes, trunks, valises, etc., etc., call at his Emporium.

THE Prince of Merchants, Mr. G. H. Enos, of Somerset, is now preparing for a large Spring trade. Already his Spring Goods have commenced to arrive, and he informs that he has a large stock of "Star Saloon" still in the center of attraction to Somerset. He keeps constantly on hand a large stock of Dry Goods, Ready Made Clothing, Hardware, Cutlery, Pipes, Stationery, etc., and he keeps no books and does a strictly cash business. He is prepared to sell much lower than those who have to add to their prices to carry accounts. You will save money and find by calling at the "Dutchman's Store" before purchasing elsewhere. Try it and be convinced.

WONDERFUL SUCCESS.—Three years ago, Dr. Boegher's German Syrup was introduced in the United States by Geo. D. Warren for the cure of coughs, severe colds, croup, whooping cough, and all other diseases of the Throat and Lungs. No medicine ever had such a success. 300,000 small bottles have been furnished over the last three years by Druggists in all parts of the United States, and nearly 1,000 letters from Druggists are on our files, saying that no other preparation in their stores sells as well and gives such excellent satisfaction. All we ask is for you to go to your Druggist, Bolton & Stagg, and get a bottle, worth 10 cents and try it. Regular 25 cents.

HOME DOINGS.

SEE the advertisement of Campbell & Miller.

Circuit Court convened in Danville last Monday.

Go West, young man and grow up with the grasshoppers.

A CLERK in the Louisville postoffice drew $19,000 in the Liberty lottery.

Don't fail to read the new advertisement of E. B. Hayden, in this week's issue.

JAMES BRIGGS, formerly of this county, but now of Texas, shot and killed his father, recently.

DR. M. BLACKBURN, has quit house-keeping, and Mr. J. C. Cooper, will occupy his dwelling.

THE health of our town and county, is better than at any other period for the past four months.

CAMPBELL & MILLER's advertisement will be read with interest by the people of Lincoln county.

MR. HOSKINS, a respectable host and shoe maker, of Louisville, has located in our town. See his card.

NEURALGIA is becoming a very common complaint, and several of our citizens, male and female, are suffering with it.

A large crowd looked for, as it will be the first County Court day of the Spring.

MARRIED.—On Wednesday last at King's Mountain Tunnel, by Rev. A. D. Rash, Mr. J. M. Knight to Miss Sarah E. Pollard.

We are requested by Mr. F. F. Robbitt, to state that he will address the people of Lincoln county, on next Monday, the 8th inst.

PROF. MYERS will deliver a discourse on "Man's Free Agency," at the Christian Church, in this place, on next Sunday, at 11 o'clock, a.m.

THE REPUTATION OF THE LITTLE GRUND-LOG.

The reputation of the little grund-log is still good. "Winter, ruler of the inventory," is still upon us, just as the little grund-log said it would be.

A LITTLE son of Mrs. Diana Wright, who lives on the farm of Mr. W. L. Caldwell, near Danville, was pined to death by an angry bull the other day.

If the popular maxim—"that if March comes in like a lion, it will go out like a lamb," has any truth in it, then we may look for the lamb the last days of March.

The winter has been so bad for the past two months, that the companies have been unable to repair their turnpikes. We are assured that these pikes will be repaired at an early day.

To-night the "Myers Debating Society" will meet as usual, having under consideration the "Impeachment Trial" of their Secretary. The ladies are especially invited to attend.

The dismal foreboding number of our citizens on Monday last, told plainly enough, that the Library "Bonanza" had nothing in the wheel of fortune for them. Alas! Sad fate!

The Stanford Ground meets at its lodge on to-morrow (Saturday), at 10 o'clock. As this is a meeting of interest to the order, a full and prompt attendance is desired. There are 35 candidates for admission.

MR. J. P. BOUTWELL, resident Engineer on the C. & E. R. R. was in town on Monday last, accompanied by his beautiful bride. The latter left on the morning train to visit her father's home in Union county, Ky.

It will be seen from his card in this issue, that Capt. Thos. H. Shanks, has responded to the call made upon him by divers citizens to become a Democratic candidate for the Legislature for this county.

OUR County Court Clerk, Mr. John Blain drew a prize of $152, on a five dollar coupon in the Library drawing. Mr. Peter Hampton, drew $58. We learn that several other of our citizens drew smaller sums.

The wife of J. W. Hopper, Editor of the Lebanon Standard, died on Monday night last, from the effects of child birth. We sympathize with Mr. Hopper in his sad bereavement. The child, which is a boy, was living at last accounts.

We received some interesting local items from Crab Orchard, but as no name was attached to the communication, of course, it went into the waste basket. When will people learn that newspapers will not publish anonymous letters?

We call attention to the card of James S. Clark & Co., which appears in another column. They furnish on application, or by mail, free of charge, drawings of Monuments, Busts, vases, Tablets, &c., and the guarantee satisfaction in every case.

The Docket of the Quarterly Court was larger than usual, there being nearly fifty appearances, including petitions and warrants; but only a few of them were contested, and hence, only two days were consumed in getting through with it.

BORN to the wife of Prof. G. C. Overstreet, on Monday night, March 1st, a 10 pound girl. The joy depicted on the face of the happy parent as he related the advent of the new-comer, almost made us wish that we were a father.

The windy wind of March has come. The old saying that "I never mind the weather if the wind don't blow is a good one. We can walk through snow and water quickly, but if the wind blows it renders us petulant and unhappy.

AN agent told us that at least $2,000 were sent from Lincoln county, to purchase Lottery tickets in the late drawing. Of this sum, less than $200 will be returned. Better to have kept this money at home, on the principle that "a bird in the hand is worth a dozen on the wing."

THE Carpenter House, being situated so near the Depot, offers special inducements for the convenience of the traveling public, who, owing to its splendid fare and good accommodations, will find it greatly to their comfort and advantage to give it a call. It is well and is found elsewhere in this county.

We need several mechanics. We especially need an Upholsterer who can repair mattresses, hair-cloth chairs and sofas, and all articles which require hair-cloth bottoms. There are many families in our town and county, who would give work to such a mechanic, and we hope one will come.

THE McKay Brothers, advertisers in another column for 100,000 tickets, to be delivered on the line of the road between King's Mountain and a point six miles below the Cumberland river. They will pay 25 cents per ticket, cash, after they have been inspected by the Engineers, without reserving any per cent.

A WOMAN aged about 38 years, bearing in her arms a babe not over three months old, with a little girl following her, was in town the other day, soliciting alms. They were thinly clad in summer wear, and the little girl was barefooted and bare legged. Should such d-ditution be permitted to travel in this land of plenty and Christian people?

The liberality displayed by some of our merchants in the extensive advertisements their place before the public in our paper is sufficient evidence that they will be equally liberal in their sales with all who deal with them. Look over them, and when you do give these men a chance to convince you of the truth of what we have said.

The man who was arrested at Fort Smith, Arkansas, and who was supposed to be Samuel Holmes, Jr., the young man who killed Col. T. W. Napier, our former Sheriff, and dangerously wounded E. M. Davidson, the town marshal of Stanford, was released from confinement, as the man who was sent to see about him, failed to identify him.

IT IS NOW next to impossible to haul a load of wood out of the Knobs. This fact should spur our citizens up to building a narrow turnpike from the toll-gate on the Somerset pike to a point near the foot of the Knobs, a distance of but little over a mile. It could be built for $800—and perhaps less, as gravel is abundant all along the line; and but little grading would be required.

The great increase of business of the popular young merchant, Mr. E. B. Hayden, has compelled him to procure the services of Mr. J. Wesley Dunn, one of the well known and popular merchants of Lancaster, Mr. Alex. C. Dunn, is a young man of considerable experience in the trade, will, no doubt, be a valuable assistant to Mr. Hayden, in increasing his already very large business.

CUTTING AFFRAY.—Mr. Berry Ware, an old citizen living in Pulaski Co., was seriously stabbed by his son-in-law, Josiah Bishop, on Friday last. It seems that Bishop had taken one of Mr. Ware's horses without his consent, and ridden off some distance. On his return, Mr. Ware remonstrated with him on such conduct, and a rough and tumble fight ensued. Ware got the better of the young man. It was while Ware had him down and put Bishop did the cutting—reaching over and inflicting seven severe wounds in his back.

MISS ANNIE MYERS, a niece of Mr. Jno. Y. Myers, of this place, was married at Booneville, Mo., recently, to Dr. F. D. Johns, a prominent young physician of that place. Many of our readers will remember Miss Annie, as she spent several months among them a few years since. The "Miss Society" of the M. E. Church had met at a "social," and the young couple and a minister being present, the company proposed that the knot be tied then and there, as they had been engaged for some months, and for the romance of the thing they agreed, and a happy time was had.

SEVERAL of our countrymen caught a grey fox some weeks since, and one day last week turned it loose and put a fine pack of hounds after it. They chased it several miles through fields and woods, and ran it into a hole. Immediately thereafter, the dogs struck the trail of a red fox, and ran it from about 12 o'clock, to 8 o'clock, p.m., when the gentlemen quit the chase, but left the hounds in full cry. The dogs had run from nine o'clock in the morning, and seemed as fresh at eight o'clock, p.m., as they were when they started. Lincoln county can boast of as fine fox and deer hounds as any county in the State.

MR. IRVINE, a fine singer, and a performer on the Parlor Organ, was here last Sunday, and gave our Sunday School children, and others, a charming treat. On Sabbath evening, a large audience assembled in the Presbyterian Church, and the voice of the children, accompanied with music of the organ, delighted all who were present. Mr. Irvine is a faithful Sunday School worker, and gave our people some wise advice as to their duties. The closing song, entitled, "The Old Tumble Bump," was most touching and beautiful of all. Many persons in the audience shed tears during its rendition, as they were carried back to childhood. We hope Mr. Irvine will visit us again before long.

On visiting the new store of Campbell & Miller on yesterday, we found our friend, Mr. F. J. Campbell, out, busily engaged in opening and marking the best, freshest, and largest lot of groceries ever brought to the market. Campbell's general goods, groceries, confectionery, and the knowledge of the success he achieved for the JOURNAL by his own exertions, and his polite and accommodating manner, warrant us in the belief that he will succeed even beyond his most sanguine expectations in his new occupation. Their store is opposite this office, so when you come to town next Monday go in and see for yourself that they have every thing on hand in their line of trade at prices that will defy competition.

On Thursday night 25th inst., Mary Morgan, residing on the R. R. near Crab Orchard, was driven from home by an angry parent. She repaired to the home of her lover, a short distance off, and with many sobs she told him of her trouble, adding—"you have been making love to me long enough, if you mean business, marry me now, or never." The young man, married by her tears, and not wishing the nuptials postponed to such an indefinite season, agreed to her demand, and proceeded next day to Somerset, for the necessary papers, but on arriving there, he was informed by the Clerk that a "permit from the parent" was indispensable. He returned to the fair Mary, and told the state of the case, when, together, they decided their way to Somerset. In the meantime, the angry parent, aforesaid, sent a letter to the Clerk, saying that the amiable "sister" had a husband living now, in Cincinnati, but as she swore that she was 21 and no husband was there to forbid, the license was issued, and on Friday night, Mary was the unfortunate possessor of two husbands. We would advise the one in Cincinnati "to come forward, prove property, pay charges, and take her away"—if the luxury is worth the trouble and expense.

We made a hasty trip on business, to Somerset, the Metropolis of South eastern Kentucky, last week, but the bad roads over which we had to travel, were enough to put one in an exceedingly bad frame of mind. However, on arriving there, the cheerful faces of the people, the air of thrift and business, caused us to get in a good humor with ourselves and everybody else. The most attractive object which meets the eye on entering town, is the magnificent Court House, recently built at a cost of nearly $35,000, it is one of the handsomest public buildings of the kind, in the State. All over town are seen marks of improvement. If the three excellent hotels had a few coats of paint, well laid on, the appearance of the Public Square would be vastly improved. The attention of the traveler will be attracted by the beautiful new sign of the "Hicks House." For information as to who painted this artistic piece of handy work, enquire of the gentlemanly proprietor, who will also take pleasure in convincing you that he is up to snuff in the management of a hotel. We met many of the patrons of the JOURNAL, who renewed their subscriptions cheerfully, and we had their promise to aid us in its further circulation. When the C. & E. R. R. shall have been completed, we see nothing in the way of a rapid progress of the town, in fact, there are already many evidences of advancement.

We predict that Somerset will double its population in the next few years, as it will be a general trade centre for a large scope of country. No note is here.

C. & E. R. R. Items.

SINCE the letting of the contracts for furnishing crosses, there has sprung up quite a rivalry among the owners of land adjacent to the line, as to who should furnish the contractors with stone. As timber is abundant all along the line, through this and Pulaski counties, it is hoped that those who own the same, will at once make propositions to the contractors, in order that they may furnish the same to the Company before the day of final delivery. Those men who own the timber, should, however, furnish it at a reasonable price.

SECTIONS 57, 58 and 59, are advertised to be re-let on March 15th. This includes King's Mountain Tunnel, and the successful bidder will have to purchase all the machinery, shanties, &c., on the ground.

STOCK AND CROP ITEMS.

A SINGLE Grange in Illinois sent 6,000 pounds of flour to the grasshopper sufferers in Kansas.

PLEASANT BEATY and McDonald, of Clinton County, Kentucky, sold to Capt. Millsap, Gentry & Co., of Tennessee, last week, a mixed lot of 30 cattle, at $33 per head.

PROVISIONS are plentiful in Green county. Wheat is sold for 75 cents, corn 50 cents and bacon 10 cents per pound. Any amount of meat can be bought for 60 cents.—Lexington Ledger.

MR. A. L. HAIL, living near this place, bought of Mr. R. G. Gover, on Wednesday last, a mixed lot of cattle for $32 per head. He intends driving these cattle to the Lexington market.

OLD UNCLE JERRY MAXWELL & J. M. CORLEAND, of Livingston, Tenn., sold on Monday last, to Geo. Afford, of this county, 27 head of fine cattle, averaging 1000 lbs. net, at $10 per head. These cattle were driven from Tennessee. Capt. Jerry expects to visit this county again, shortly, with a much larger drove than the last.

MONDAY last was Harrodsburg Court day, and Capt. T. D. English, Clerk, writes: "That owing to the unkindly weather, not as much business was transacted as usual. From 250 to 300 cattle were on the market, mostly common to medium yearlings. The prices obtained for them varied from 3 to 4 cents. Plug horses and mules sold from $25 to $30.

At the sale of Arnett & Roberts, Woodford county, on Thursday, the following prices were obtained: Work mules $118 to $137. Work horses $70 to $110. Milch cows $35 to $65. Polished cows $70 to $130. Yearling cattle $25. Two-year old cattle $32. Calves $14. One lot of yearling heifers $21. Broad sows $14 to $18. Sows $21 per ton. Bacon hams 16c. Sides 15c, shoulders 11c per lb.—Lexington Daily Press.

A FARMER of this county, told us on last Tuesday, that upon a thorough examination he had found the fruit crop safe up to that time, and that the wheat crop was injured slightly, but without further severe weather, the prospect for a fine yield, was very promising. He also told us, that owing to the heavy frozes, the soil was breaking up finely, and that a good deal of plowing had been done. Stock is looking remarkably well for the season. Corn is worth readily $1.50 to $1.60 per bushel. Wheat $1.50 per bushel; Hay $1 per ton.

The leading produce markets, were generally unchanged yesterday. Bacon was quiet, holders asking $10.50 for shoulders, 11c for clear rib sides, 11c for 11c for clear ribs, 12c for 12c for hams. Bulk meats were quiet. Lard for shoulders, 10c for clear rib sides, and 10c for clear sides. Lard was quiet at 14c for tierce, 15c for 15c for keg, and 15c for bucket. Grain was generally quiet. Wheat 95c, $1 and $1.05 for red, amber, and white. Corn 62c for 62c on arrival, and 73c for 73c from store. Oats 60c on arrival, and 64c for 64c from store. Fruit, vegetable, butter, and eggs were unchanged. Sales of leaf tobacco were made at $7.50 to 10.50 for lugs, and $10.50 to $18.00 for leaf.—Lexington Commercial March 2d.

LINCOLN COUNTY NEWS.

NORTH-SIDE, Lincoln county, Ky., March 2d, 1875.

Correspondence Interior Journal.

We noticed in a recent number of your paper an account of a school exhibition at Turnersville, which was read with pleasure, though we almost felt sorry that we could not have one at old White Oak temple of Science, Literature and Christianity. But by way of appeasing our sorrow, Mr. M. D. Hughes, teacher of White Oak High School, gave to the people of this vicinity quite a treat in the way of a school examination, on the 25th. We had the pleasure to be present and witness the exercises. Owing to a want of time, only a few classes were examined fully. The grammar class, in which there was a premium awarded for proficiency, age and opportunity taken into consideration. The examination of this class consumed about three hours. Mr. H. carried them over the greater portion of the book. The contest was a very warm one, the pupils evinced a very fine knowledge of the whole book. At the close of the contest the prize was awarded to Gabriel Walter. The young ladies of the school then gave a rare treat in the way of essays, we give them in the order in which they came before the audience: 1st.—Essay by Miss Sallie Porter; Subject—"Time." 2d.—Miss Nannie Walter; Subject—"Kindness to the aged." 3d.—Miss Laura Beasley; Subject—"Memory." 4th.—Miss Minnie Dragoon; Subject—"Memories." Declamation, by Joseph McClary; Subject—"Man." Essay 5th. Miss Mollie Beasley; Subject—"Not Here." 6th. Miss Nannie Porter; Subject—"Contentment." 7th. Miss Mary Logan; Subject—"A Cheerful Home." 8th. Miss Lillie McClary; Subject—"Farewell." The pupils acquitted themselves in the best of style, showing that they had been well trained. Prof. Hughes delivered a fine farewell address, which was replete with good sense.

BOYLE COUNTY NEWS.

DANVILLE, KY., March 2d, 1875.

Correspondence Interior Journal.

THE musicians of this place, with the kind assistance of the accomplished singer, Miss H. Todd, of Frankfort, intend having an "Old Folk's Concert" for the purpose of raising money to purchase an organ for the second Presbyterian Church. We hope all lovers of fine music, will, by their liberal patronage favor this undertaking. These "Old Folk's Concerts" are becoming popular everywhere.

REV. MR. JUNKINS, the able Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, is now in Lebanon, carrying on a protracted meeting in Mr. Bracken's Church.

SUNDAY night about 8 o'clock, a hard rain set in and continued until Monday, 10 o'clock, a.m. The temperature yesterday was almost summer heat, it being 68° today it is cold and cloudy.

THE beauty of Danville is soon to be enhanced by the erection of two elegant dwellings, on the lot nearly opposite the First Presbyterian Church, by Mrs. Gen. J. T. Boyle, and Dr. Hays, of the Theological Seminary.

A TELEGRAM was received from Louisville last week, stating that the man in the employ of Mrs. Bowman, who stole her silver-ware, had been arrested by a detective of that city. Since he has been brought to Danville, on yesterday he confessed judgment and was sentenced to imprisonment in the State Penitentiary for one year. The silver was recovered.

WE WERE surprised last week, to learn of the marriage of Miss Alice Dawson. We sincerely and heartily congratulate the man who won so lovely a young lady as we know her to be.

MADISON COUNTY NEWS.

KINGSTON, Madison Co., Ky., Feb. 27th, 1875.

W. P. Walton, Editor Interior Journal.

DEAR SIR:—As a former correspondent and subscriber to your paper, I take the liberty of informing you of a most horrible murder which took place in our community, on the 25th inst., the details of which will be of interest to some of your readers.

Mr. James Simpson, a highly respected citizen of this county, was shot and killed by his nephew, one young Roberts, a boy of some eighteen years. The particulars, as far as we have been able to ascertain, are as follows: Mr. Simpson was the guardian of young Roberts, and had in his possession some hundred and fifty dollars, which would be going to Roberts when he had attained his majority. He (Roberts) had on several occasions previous to the murder, demanded of his guardian, his money, upon which, he (Simpson) very wisely, informed him he had no right to give it up without orders from the Court, or another guardian was appointed. On the evening of the 25th inst., Simpson came to the house of Mr. Simpson, again demanding his money, Simpson refusing, ordered him from his house; he immediately left, using the most violent language and threats. Mr. Simpson not apprehending any danger from him, was a few minutes later, standing in the front door of his house, in company with his sister, (Mrs. Owens,) when Roberts again appeared within thirty yards of the door, pistol in hand, and called to Mrs. Owens to get out of the way, that he "was going to kill the d-d old rascal," and immediately fired—but without effect—Simpson remarked to his sister, that he would defend himself, picked up his gun, went out of the back door, as he came around the house, Roberts again demanded his position, took rest from a post, and fired; the ball took effect in Simpson's neck, cutting the jugular vein, which caused immediate death. The funeral services took place to-day, a large crowd in attendance. Mr. Simpson was a man that was greatly respected by those who knew him, and will be greatly missed. The murderer is still at large, for whom there will be offered a large reward. It is to be hoped by every good citizen that he may be caught, and a just recompense of the law meted out to him.

Yours, R. H. B.

CASEY COUNTY NEWS.

MIDDLEBURGH, Ky., Feb. 28, 1875.

Correspondence Interior Journal.

Wm. H. WALLS, Jr., and Jno. C. Kates, started to Illinois on the 24th inst.

T. R. DENHAM, State Lecturer L. O. of G. T., delivered a stirring lecture at the 25th, in this place, on the night of the 25th. At the close there were three initiations; Rev. Jno. M. Sollee, Mrs. Rachel Saltee and Miss Clay Roland.

THERE was a Democratic meeting held at Liberty, on the 22d inst., and delegates appointed to represent new county in the State Convention to be held in Frankfort, May 6th. Delegates were instructed to cast their votes for Hon. J. B. McCree, of Madison, for Governor; Judge Burton, of Marion, for Lt. Governor; R. J. Breckinridge, of Boyle, for Attorney General; D. Howard Smith, for Auditor, and H. A. M. Henderson, for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

A LEADING merchant of this place, in order to protect his store from midnight depredations, employed three young men to stay in his store at night. The burglars did not halt when called upon. The next morning the gory bodies of four geese belonging to a widow lady, told how deadly had been the aim of these valiant young men.

IN the Danville Advocate of the 19th inst. Ed. Alcorn tells very unreasonably yarn about McMalion's dog separating Irish combatants, and also "Hambler" of Shelby City, tells another of an English Shepherd, putting out fire, &c. Charlie Simpson's Scotch terrier, Dash, of this place, beats all such dogs as those, both in intelligence and utility. Charlie carries three-fourths of a mile from the main business part of the town. Dash carries the Interior Journal, and other mail matter from the post-office home; is sent to the store for sugar, coffee, butter, eggs, &c., which he conveys safely home; brings in wood from the woodpile; goes to a neighboring shop for shavers to kindle the fire; conveys written messages to and from near neighbors; in short, he makes himself generally useful. He is also taught to sit up with a cap on his head and pipe in his mouth, in imitation of a person smoking; goes through the manual of arms, and other amusing tricks.

BY request, we offer an actual practical business problem for Stanford business men to solve: Joseph Coffey, gave his note to C. Butt, due nine months after date, for $470 with 6 per cent. interest from date, and is to receive 10 per cent on all money paid before the note becomes due. Five months before it becomes due Coffey pays $170, and one month later the balance of the principal, $300, and accrued interest and taken in his note. Wanted to know how they ought to have settled—whether interest still ought to have been allowed on the note until it became due, or stopped when paid in full, and if stopped, ought Coffey be allowed his 10 per cent until the maturity of the note.

It is the custom at the well-conducted Sabbath school of Mr. Salom, Lincoln county, for one or more members to be called upon to give a summary of the teachings of the lesson just closed. The lesson for Feb. 21st, was "Caleb's Inheritance." On that day a broad grin was seen on the faces of the members when their worthy pastor being called upon, delivered his views on the teachings of "the Lands Divided," the lesson assigned for Feb. 28th. He had by mistake prepared himself for the wrong lesson.

We admire the prose of your correspondent, "Murat," of Lancaster, in fact, it is good English—but how foggy is his brain on poets, and deficient is his taste on poets! "From some poet"—who would not have known that the lines we quoted were from Southey, no, Col.-Coleridge's "Rime and Legendine!" And then the idea of associating those beautiful lines, which we only slightly transposed to suit the tale we wished to embellish, with such miserable trash, but we won't use objectionable names, as that kind of poetry seems to please "Murat," and we don't wish to offend him. Alas! how poetic talent has degenerated in Garrard county since our boyhood days. In regard to that vacant "gap" he might have included larger among the mixed freight of hogs, cattle, correspondents, &c.

PULASKI COUNTY NEWS.

CATO, KY., March 2d, 1875.

Correspondence Interior Journal.

MR. NATHAN FLOYD sold his farm some time since, for $1200, and with Mr. Green Mercer, in a few days, start for Missouri. Wm. Hubbs sold his farm for $600, with the intention of going West, but has since bought the Sam. Adams farm for $700—and concluded to remain here for the present.

A PROTRACTED meeting of ten days duration was lately held at the Baptist Church at this place, by Elder Brookshire, of Crab Orchard; were added to the Church which will be baptized the next regular meeting, which is the 2d Saturday and Sunday of each month. Cato is said to be a bad place to labor successfully, and it is thought that "Sedge-grass and Campbellites" will take this portion of the county. The Christian Church has its regular meeting every 4th Lord's day. Preaching by Elder W. S. Gooch, and others. The new Church will be completed sufficient for holding meetings during the summer, but will not be entirely finished before fall. During the protracted meeting spoken of, a yellow cold about 18 years of age, who lived here a short time since with Mr. White, went to the Church yard one night while the meeting was in progress, and took a horse belonging to a Mr. Ashley, and rode him to Flat Lick. The horse got home, or was returned, and was again lodged in jail at Somerset. It is likely to be a dear ride to him.

The first thing to be inquired is, whether clipping gives a horse any pain the time of the process, and next what service it affords. Now we do not hesitate to say, that there is no more pain given to a horse by the operation of clipping than there is given to a man by shaving his hair cut; and not so much as there is to a man in shaving when he has misfortune to fall into the hands of a barber. That point being settled—then with the subsequent introduction of the singeing-lamp to carry off the loose remaining hair, we are obliged to admit that "clipping" is of positive ser-

To test the quality of wool, take a lock from the sheep's back, and place it in a measured inch. If the spirals count from thirty to thirty-three in the space of an inch, it equals the finest Electoral Saxony wool grown. The diminution of the number of folds to the inch shows inferiority.

GRAPES are recommended as a cure for flatulency. This fruit, by its agreeable acidity, so acts on the system as to relieve of its bile, and thus removes the cause of the symptoms enumerated, and that "cure." The immediate cause of all discomfort is a "confined" condition of the most distinguished and praiseworthy instruments⁸ of their class: praising in detail their power and resonance, their tone, variety of combination and solo feats; fine power of expression; smooth, blended and sympathetic tones, and thoroughness of articulation, and their range of the lowest and highest modal. Other American organs in competition were declared to be far less meritorious, the tones and workmanship being both inferior. In comparison, it was said: "Judged leniently, they do not rise above a respectable level." They were undoubtedly the most extensive, thorough and consistent comparison of such instruments ever made. *

The effect of all this has been to put an end to the authority of law over a large portion of Louisiana, to deprive the negro of his freedom of suffrage, and to place the negro in the hands of the white race for the purpose of securing business in elections and in the exercise of the franchise. The result is that the white race has secured the Government in Louisiana, and thereby means it in the whole country.
